

Boot a Linux USB flash drive from Windows 10 running with Secure Boot Enabled

You must have an EFI directory in the root of the Linux USB flash drive.

Start >

Settings >

Update & Security >

Recovery >

Advance Startup >

Restart Now >

Use a Device >

EFI USB Device

